

FAIRMONT ELKS
PLANNING TRIP TO CONVENTION

Hundreds of Antlered Herd and Ladies Will Take in Annual Affair.

Fairmont Elks will be contenders for all prizes to be offered at the annual convention of the West Virginia Elks which will be held in Clarksburg September 17, 18 and 19.

Prizes will be presented to the biggest, smallest, handsomest and most homely Elks in the parade to be held on the morning of September 19. Prizes will also be awarded for the best float, the best appearing lodge and the lodge with the largest attendance.

While it is the intention of the local lodge to have as large a delegation as possible to the convention, all plans are being worked out to have all local Elks there on Tuesday, September 19. Plans are being made to run at least three special trains of three cars each over the traction line to Clarksburg on that day. The special train will leave here at 8:30 a. m. and will arrive in Clarksburg in ample time for the parade that morning.

Headed by Band
The local delegation will be headed by a brass band and make an effort to capture the loving cup of the parade as well as the best appearing delegation. W. D. Evans, who is in charge of making arrangements for the convention, announced today that a class of candidates will be taken along for the big election which will be held on Tuesday morning.

Plans are also under way to have a number of special cars operated on Monday evening, when a number of special social events are on the program. The local Elks baseball team will play a game in Clarksburg during the convention on Sunday afternoon before the convention opens.

In addition to the large number of Elks who will make the trips to and from Clarksburg on the special cars, hundreds are planning to arrive over the automobiles, and the element lodge will probably be as well represented as the Clarksburg lodge on the big day of the convention.

Word comes from Clarksburg that though so far only the outline of the parade has been decided upon, the multitude of details which enter into an event of this size are now being considered.

Charles B. Johnson has been elected chairman of the hotels committee to take the prizes for the late Dr. W. P. Coffey and Charles F. Kesner and John Fitzpatrick compose the committee to visit local manufacturers and get ideas for souvenirs to give visiting "Bills" during the convention.

It is planned to decorate West Elm street from Fourth to Sixth streets and also to decorate the Elks' home inside and out in an elaborate manner. Signs and banners also will be placed about the city.

Prizes for Parade
The committee on prizes for the parade, which Walter B. Wilson, secretary of the Clarksburg lodge, is chairman, is authorized to purchase prizes, which will be issued to Elks and ladies who have visiting cards, as they register. At the time of registration the visitors will also be given theatre tickets, souvenirs, a program and other general information on the convention.

Clifford McManaway, chairman of the committee on parade, is authorized to give prizes for the best float, the best appearing lodge, at various individual prizes, a complete list of which will be announced later. It has been decided to have the parade start at 10:30 o'clock in the morning of the last day of the convention, previous to the big athletic exercises which will be held in the afternoon.

Bands and Orchestras
That the Mason-Dixon Seven, Nelson Maple's and Nick White's orchestras will be on hand for the convention, was announced by Frank L. McGraw, chairman of the music committee. Some of the orchestras have been employed for two days, while one is for all three days. The Mason-Dixon Seven will play for the exercises at the opera house the opening night of the convention. They will also play for the ball game that afternoon.

It is announced by Secretary Wilson that Bill Fee will bring his big orchestra from Wheeling the first day of the convention and it will be here, and everywhere during the three days. Wheeling will also bring a big band, as will several of the other lodges, and it is expected that there will be eight or ten bands in the parade September 19.

The automobile, golf, entertainment, information, "eats" and other committees are making progress on their arrangements. While the program calls for dances every afternoon and night, the possibility of a big street dance, possibly on Walnut street, one of the nights is contemplated and it will likely be placed on the list.

VETERAN SPORTSMAN DIES
CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Tom Marshall, 66, veteran trap shooter and sportsman, died today. Mr. Marshall was one of the best known wing shots in the country, having twice won the American handicap. He wrote sporting news for many newspapers.

James Moore Thinks
He Has Beauty Toga

Portrait by Tucker JAMES MOORE

The second local boy to file application for entrance to The West Virginian's male beauty contest was none other than James Moore. Jim was so anxious to get into the contest that he couldn't wait for daylight to come so he had a special messenger bring his application to the office in the "wee small hours" this morning.

George Tucker, the staff artist, did everything in his power to give Jim a show in the race for the above picture although a likeness, is far better looking than the "original".

James thinks that The West Virginian readers will choose him because he is 100 per cent West Virginian. He said to the staff correspondent yesterday, "I admit that many people think that I'm not as handsomely built as Mr. Holbert, but I think they will give me credit for my loyalty to the home state."

Mr. Moore is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and the boys at the house say that I am the best looking in school. I am a sportsman pure and simple. I love athletics and have been quite successful as a fisherman. Taking all in all, I think that I have just as much claim on the title as any one in the city."

FURS AND OVERCOATS IN SAN FRANCISCO NEEDED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. Aug. 18.—San Franciscoans journeyed to work this morning in furs and overcoats while easterners suffered with the hottest weather of the summer. A steady trade wind from the Pacific sent the temperature to a low mark yesterday. Other Pacific Coast cities were warmer, however. Los Angeles reported 76 degrees, while at Seattle the mercury climbed to 80.

Occasionally a straw hat or filmy crepe de chine frock could be seen, but winter garments predominated in San Francisco.

Pop Shriver May Be Brought Here for Second Game
With Waynesburg.

FAIRVIEW, Aug. 18.—Smarter under a defeat administered there last Sunday afternoon by the fast going Waynesburg Independent baseball team, the Fairview Athletic Club is making a determined effort to turn the tables when the same team is met on local grounds Sunday afternoon, August 27. Manager Pete Yost of the local independents is making a heroic effort to have a line-up for that engagement which will send the visitors back scalded. Negotiations have begun to secure Pop Shriver, who has been one of the Brooklyn Nationals' leading pitchers the last season, to fill the mound position for the locals on that date. If the plans materialize not only will the pitcher but also the catcher be imported for the game. In addition to this battery, some of the best stars in this section of the country will be secured to fill various positions on the team. Waynesburg will likely lineup the same list of players who succeeded in giving the locals such a drubbing in last Sunday's contest.

Seriously Ill
W. D. Yost is ill at his home on Madison street with an acute attack of indigestion. Mr. Yost, in company with several other local baseball fans, motored to Waynesburg Tuesday to see the independent team by a 9 to 3 score, but suffered the attack while enroute home. While he is still confined to his bed his physician reports that he is slowly improving.

Camping Trip
Fred Stewart, Aldene Miller, Mary Stewart, Byron Miller, Dorothy Dodd and others are spending a two weeks' vacation in a camp near Antioch. Bathing will be the principal amusement.

Cool Reception
It is rumored that Hillard Bassett and Clyde Shuman are circulating a petition for the lowering of the school fee, which has necessarily been made high to care for congested conditions in certain sections of the district. These men, it is said are meeting with rather a cool reception in Fairmont, where the taxpayers are noted for their generous support of schools.

Buildings Going Up
The Rivesville addition to the high and graded school is rapidly nearing completion, and according to H. L. Tennant, who is in charge of the construction, will be ready for the opening of schools, September 11. Excavation continues on the Fairview addition and the plans have been sent to the state superintendent of schools for approval. This addition will be completed by January 1 unless its enemies should succeed in delaying the work.

Slight Increase.
Local taxpayers were more or less surprised because of the slight increase in valuation of the property in Paw-Paw District this year. While other districts of the state had increases ranging from 50 to 90 percent, this district had a bare 25 percent. Real estate jumped from five to seven million dollars, while personal property and public utilities increased only by thousands. All public utilities in the district are assessed at a little more than three million dollars as against two and one-half millions last year. It is interesting to note that the valuation totaled more than seven million dollars in 1914.

SEPARATE STATE
CONTRACT SOUGHT

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Arbitration and a separate state agreements were the chief issues between Illinois coal operators and miners in their meeting here today.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, went into the conference with the proposal that the operators agree to a state wage contract on the basis of the Cleveland conference, by which a partial settlement of the nation-wide coal strike was made. Operators have pointed out that the Cleveland agreement did not call for arbitration and separate state agreements the two chief points on which Illinois and Indiana operators insisted.

MRS. DANGER TO BE

She was a member of the M. E. Temple. Mrs. Dancer was the only child of Mrs. Kate Brand and is survived by her mother and her husband.
